WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1891.

BUSINESS FEATURES.

(From the N. Y. Tribune.)

The important features in the business world last week were expectedly large imports of gold, decidedly better reports of railroad earnings, a marked improvement in the prospect for the next wheat crop, and some increased activity in the cotton, grain, pork and petroleum markets. The money market worked without difficulty throughout the week, although the amount of gold drawn out of the city was larger than had been expected. The advance of Government bonds to the highest prices yet reached, reflected the prevailing expectation of low rates of interest in the money market for some time to come.

The official statement of specie imports does not embrace the gold which actually arrived on Saturday night, but which, according to the Odey, was $837,254, but which was valued at $845,373. The amount received during the six days ending Saturday night was $5,125,095. Either amount exceeds the imports in any other week this year, and either was exceeded only twice last fall. The total imports this year, up to Saturday night, from Jan. 1 to April 12, 1891, was $11,356,681, against $10,911,211 from Jan. 1 to April 12, 1890. Meanwhile the exports of gold have been only $1,267,367, against $1,063,838 to April 10, 1890. The cable had given no warning of a part of the shipments which arrived last week, and the amount of gold now at sea, though estimated at about $4,000,000, may be considerably larger. The Assay Office paid out $2,614,554 in the week ending Friday night, but received $5,383,700. It had received to date this year of bullion and foreign coin $76,895,100, and had paid out only $73,523,120. The $327,000 which arrived on Saturday is also to be added to the Assay Office receipts, so that about $2,000,000 in all has yet come from that source on account of gold already here. The net imports of gold since July 1 already much exceed those of any previous entire fiscal year, and are not unlikely to reach $100,000,000 for the current fiscal year.

What becomes of the gold is still a puzzle. Last week the Treasury received $2,000,000 from mint and coin, but it received its specie balance $5,092,472. But, although it thus threw more than $7,000,000 of specie into the market, the banks report an increase of only $2,818,200. Their system of averages doubtless explains a part of the discrepancy, for the actual deposits of gold in the vault of the city were $4,300,000 for the week ending Friday, so that the specie reserve held by the banks at the end of the week must have been larger than their statement indicated. But there is still a large amount not accounted for, and the state of exchanges at Boston, Chicago and St. Louis indicates that shipments of specie have not yet ceased. About this time, however, the outflow of gold from New York will naturally stop, but it is uncertain how much of the gold which has gone out will return this spring. Since all the gold which has come from the mines for two years, and a large part of that which has come from abroad, has been absorbed in the interior, it is generally supposed that the return to this point will be more prompt and full this year than in the spring of 1890 or 1879.

The gloomy expectations in regard to railroad earnings for March, which Street reports had caused, are rapidly disappointed by the official figures. Forty-two railroads report earnings of $14,714,288 in that month, against $13,542,590 in the same month of 1890; with an increase of all kinds, speculative as well as legitimate, and foreign as well as domestic, was active beyond all precedent. Twenty-six, or nearly two-thirds, of these railroads, report increased earnings for the month, and only the Erie, Missouri, International and Great Northern, Houston and Texas Central, and Denver and Rio Grande—the increase is remarkably large. At the same time, the decrease in traffic on the roads in the far Northwest, which have been most affected by the severe storm, proves to be much smaller than was expected. It is a favorite device in the Street to assert that official reports are fraudulent and false, nor is it possible for the public to be sure that in any particular case they are not. But if any statement is to be believed, certainly the official statements, which must be made to square with accounts at the end of a year, are entitled to at least as much credence as the assertions of interested speculators who can never be called to account for them afterward. The evidence of the railroad reports, moreover, is generally well sustained by the records of bank exchanges, which show for the month of March, in comparison with the extraordinary returns of March, 1890, a decrease of 12.3 per cent at Milwaukee and of 1.3 per cent at Chicago, with an increase of 12.3 per cent at Boston, 6.5 per cent at Philadelphia, 5.7 per cent at Baltimore, 20.9 per cent at Pittsburgh, 15.1 per cent at Cincinnati, 36.5 per cent at Louisville, 6.5 per cent at New Orleans, 5.7 per cent at St. Louis, 10 per cent at Indianapolis, 8.7 per cent at Kansas City and 9.9 per cent at San Francisco. The evidence is conclusive that, in spite of storms, the decrease in volume of business has been comparatively small in the Northwest, while the increase has been remarkably large almost everywhere else.

Reports of the condition of winter wheat, gathered by the Minneapolis Republican of April 1, are more encouraging than the accounts carefully circulated earlier in the season. Still there is much said about the bad prospects of winter wheat in Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota, where practically none of that sort is raised, and much stress is placed upon the fact that the season as a reason for the belief that the crop of spring wheat will be small. A Minnesota farmer, who gives the date of seeding on his farm for ten years past, observes that he put in seed as early as March only once in the ten years, and the result was the poorest crop of the ten. For seven years in succession, seeding was from the 15th to the 25th of April, and the latest sown wheat has done the best. It is still too early to base unfavorable expectations as to spring wheat upon anything other than interested hopes. The market was quite active last week, but prices did not vary widely and closed with a slight decline. Corn, oats and cotton were a little higher; pork was sharply advanced by a speculative bid; and petroleum was moved upward, oil closing at 91 1/2, against 89 1/2 April 1 and 77 1/2 March 25. Some increase is seen in the demand for coal, and the iron market grows firmer in tone.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

It is noticeable that nobody displays any anxiety lest the President back down. Mary Clemmer, so long known as a Washington correspondent, has abandoned letter writing and will devote herself to general literature.

It is alleged that 112 Republican newspapers in New York State are in favor of Judge Robertson's confirmation, and only 9 opposed to it.

Mr. J. S. Curtis, eldest son of George Ticknor Curtis, has been appointed mining geologist on the United States Geological Survey for the Eureka district in Nevada.

Heine's grave at Montmartre is described as being in the most forlorn state. The weather-worn and leafless remains of a laurel wreath are all the decorations it possesses.

The new czar leads a very simple life. He rises early and takes a long walk. After dinner he spends a long time in amusing himself with his children.

Senator Bates, the newly-appointed Minister of Spain to Washington, and Hon. John A. Kasson, United States Minister to Austria, sailed for New York from London on Sunday.

President Garfield has been formally invited to visit the fair of the Knights of Pythias which is to be held in Baltimore, April 13, and has consented to go if possible. Several of the Cabinet officers have promised to accompany him.

Mr. Bjornstjerne Bjornson has been much delayed in his travels through the West by the often recurring snowstorms. He is averse to notoriety, and has just refused a public reception offered him by the Norwegianists in Milwaukee.

Mr. Nordhoff, the well-known Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, says that leading Democrats in Washington are much alarmed at the Washington made at the solid South by the Mahone movement in the Senate.

The total vote of Rhode Island for Governor at the election, Wednesday, was as follows: Littlefield (Rep.), 10,789; Kimball (Dem.), 5,146; Adams (Greenback), and Allen (Prohibitionist), 562—Republican majority, 5043.

When a man like Senator Callahan says that there has not been any political intolerance, ostracism or violence in any Southern State, and that the full right of suffrage was never denied in a Southern State, he shows that he is a blusterer who has no regard for his reputation.

Mrs. Arnold, the wife of the author of "The Light of Asia," and grandniece of Dr. Channing, is mentioned as an architect of distinction. She is now in London, working on the design of the memorial window to be placed by the Channing family in the Channing Memorial Church at Newport.

Miss Julia Bryant, daughter of the late William Cullen Bryant, has sold her quarter interest in the New York Evening Post to Mr. Parker Godwin, whose wife, an aunt of the late Mr. Bryant, already owns a similar share. The other half of the paper is owned by Mr. Henderson, the publisher.

Miss Jennie Bronson, the fearless nurse who exposed herself in Granada, Miss., at the bedside of the dying inhabitants, and then in Memphis and New Orleans, has just been let a fortune by the death of her father, an eccentric old man who hoarded his gold and refused to live in any kind of habitation except an old castle.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says that the course which the Republicans in the Senate are pursuing, viz., that they ought to have done five or even ten years ago, but better late than never. If they succeed in their present plans they will have done a great service to the whole country.

Senator Mahone writes to a Milwaukee gentleman who sent him a letter of approval: "Next to a self-convinced of having done your duty the approbation of the true, the good and the brave is the most gratifying to the public servant who strives to walk in the path of right. I am proud to say that this commendation has been vouchsafed to me without stint, to my great encouragement to press on."

There is now in the vaults of the Treasury Department a larger amount of gold than was ever known to be in one place in the history of modern times, and probably more than could be authenticated as existing in a single treasury at any time before in the world. There is now about $175,000,000 of gold coin and bullion, exclusive of some $50,000,000 in silver, while the Bank of England has only about $75,000,000 in gold. What is more singular is that it stays in the vaults, no matter what the demand recently, for as fast as it is paid out it returns, showing that as long as confidence is maintained it is not a favorite currency.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The Director of the Bureau of Statistics at Vienna has issued a table showing that in Europe, of 102,381 individuals who have lived beyond the age of ninety, 60,303 are women.

It is estimated that there are over 1,300 trotting horses in training in the United States. It is believed that by the aid of some new stop-watches being made, they will succeed in reducing the record two seconds, this year. Boston Post.

A finely engraved portrait of George Eliot was contributed to the Harvard Magazine for May. It will be accompanied by an admirable paper of personal reminiscences of this remarkable woman, by C. Kegan Paul, an English gentleman, who held toward her the twofold relation of publisher and intimate friend.

Letters from the United States for places in Cuba should be prepaid by postage stamps and not by stamped envelopes, as the general post office there does not recognize the stamped envelope, and such letters are charged on letters under such enclosure, the same as if they had been prepaid.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics reports that the total values of the exports of petroleum and petroleum products from the United States during the month of February, 1891, were $2,524,055, and during February, 1890, $2,300,314. For the eight months ending February 28, 1891, $20,338,391, and for the eight months ending February 28, 1890, $28,324,473.

It is definitely settled that fish is no richer in phosphorus, and therefore is of no great value as a brain food than meat. Salmon contains the most nutrient, and the brain they would have found out a way to keep their streets clean. The consumption of fish in New York embraces 1.1 million in the ten months from March 1, 1890, to Jan. 1, 1891, the following kinds were consumed: Cod, 5,269,007 pounds; bluefish, 4,364,613; halibut, 2,311,749; haddock, 1,645,564; lobsters, 1,311,981.
